

SHOP WINDOW

Autumn is normally trade show time. Not this year. Dan Joyce trawled the infinite halls of the internet instead

Brum, brum

The Cycle Show (16-18 April now) is moving from Birmingham's NEC to London's Alexandra Palace. cycleshow.co.uk

1 Cube Acid 200 Allroad £349

Yes, that's hub dynamo lighting on this 20in-wheel, 1x7 geared junior bike. It also has a kickstand and clip-on mudguards – or you could fit 'real' ones.

cube.eu

2 Garmin GLO 2 £89.99

Some phones have poor GPS performance, while many tablets are wifi-only. This device enables you to use either for accurate on-bike navigation.

garmin.com

3 Parkis from £279+VAT

Vertical parking for those who struggle to lift their bike, the wheel holder rises up on a spring. Could be ideal for e-bikes. New MTB version pictured.

bellsure.co.uk, parkis.eu

4 N-lock £107.35

More space saver than high security, the N-lock stem fastens the bike's handlebar at a 90° angle. An integrated 60-150cm cable lock is an optional extra.

n-lock.com

5 Brompton Basket Bag in Liberty Fabric £80

Brompton luggage too utilitarian? This 23-litre nylon/polyester front-carrier bag has a floral 'Thorpe print' from Liberty Fabrics.

brompton.com

6 Fairlight Faran 2.0 frameset £899

Available from October, this do-it-all Reynolds 631 steel frameset takes 650B or 700C wheels and whatever luggage and derailleur gearing options you fancy.

fairlightcycles.com

7 Tumbleweed Mini Pannier Rack $140

A lightweight rack for bikepackers with big tyres (up to 29x3.5in or 26x4.7in), it supports small panniers or bottle/accessory cages.

tumbleweed.cc

More online

For more reviews of bikes, kit and components, as well as how-to guides, visit...

cyclinguk.org/cycling-advice